Democracy at War with the Government

Any one who listens to Democratic speeches or reads Democratic newspapers in Oregon cannot fail to be surprised that never a word is spoken or published, which condemns the action of the rebels The whole burden of complaint is against the Administration and its measures There seems to be no controversy with treason, nor any desire to check or quell it Is not this a strange, an unaccountable position for patriotic men to occupy? In the midst of a great, an agonizing conflict, forced upon the Nation by the leaders of the rebellion, and compelling the Government in self defence to resist the attempt to destroy the Union forever,—while the vast military power of the country is in the field, struggling and fighting with an energy unequalled in the history of the race, we might naturally look for some expression of sympathy for free institutions on the part of every man who professes to love liberty and the Government which protects it But our expectations are vain, the Democratic party has other work on hand its business is not the salvation of the country, that is of secondary importance. Its whole power is employed in abusing those whose duty it is to execute the laws. Its great enemy is not secession or treason, it has no weapon to use against the assassins who are striving to murder freedom, but its quarrel with the officers of the Government is unceasing and bitter. A stranger, happening to hear or to read what Democrats here say and write in regard to public affairs, would be forced to conclude that they had nothing at stake in this tremendous contest, and that their hearts and hopes were all bound up in the defeat of the armies of the Union and in the success of the rebellion Is this then the real purpose of the Democracy? Can Col. Kelly and its other leaders blame us for charging them with being allies and friends of secession, when they say and do nothing to show their hostility to the rebellion? Can they claim any credit for patriotism, when they never find time to rejoice at a victory, gained over the armed hosts of treason, or to express a hope that the Government by its triumphs, may restore peace to the land, made one again? They talk about being loyal, and are angry if we doubt their professions, but so long as, by their constant and unsparing abuse of the Government, and their silence in regard to the atrocious wickedness of the South, they invite and provoke the popular belief, that they have no interest in the prosperity and success of the Republic, they have only themselves to thank. We do not ask or expect, that they will approve and justify every act done by the Administration—but we do insist, that while they complain of everything done by way of crushing the rebellion, and never find any occasion to denounce treason, they are at war with the Government, and are in alliance with its foes They cannot be neutral and they are not, for they hate with perfect scorn those to whom the people have entrusted the management of public affairs, while they scarcely attempt to hide their desire that secession may achieve independence, and the integrity of the Nation may be destroyed

Let honest Democrats think of this!

VALLANDIGHAM WAGING WAR IN THE NORTH.—Vallandigham has written a letter of condolence to the proprietors of the Dayton Empire, whose office was gutted recently He says there is now but one remedy for the past, and preventive of future injuries, and that is instant, summary, and ample reprisals upon the property of the men at home who, by language and conduct, are always inciting to these outrages Retaliation is the only and the rightful remedy in times like these Reprisals in such cases are now the only means left for a return to law and order

NEW STYLE OF C. O. D.—The Gloucester, Massachusetts, Telegraph says that at a funeral in that town not long since, while the mourners were leaving the tomb, one of them approached the sexton and taking out his pocket-book proceeded to settle the burial charges on the spot The Telegraph considers this as one of the most remarkable cases of the "C. O. D." system on record

Umpqua Correspondence

OAKLAND OREGON
May 9, 1864

EDITOR OREGONIAN:

I am permitted to make the following extracts of a letter received by Benj Butler of this place, from his brother, who is a member of Company K, 96th Regiment Illinois Volunteers The letter is dated at Camp McAffee, Georgia, March 7th, 1864 The writer, after giving an account of his travels for the last ten years says

In August, 1862, I enlisted to go forth and help fight for the restoration of our glorious old Union but eighteen months have passed away since that time and the Union is not yet restored I was engaged in the battles of Perryville Chickamauga Chattanooga Ringgold and Dalton, be sides a great many little skarmishes but have managed so far to come out without getting hurt I was in the fight at Dalton about two weeks ago The missiles from the rebel guns filled my eyes with dirt I never thought much of a campaign country until that day I just found out what they were good for and I hugged some of them tighter than I ever did a girl in Illinois I am now cowardly but very cautious

We are having delightful weather here now It reminds me of summer in the glorious North the music from the brass band and the warbling of the songsters as they dwell amidst the branches of the tall pines, are calculated to make one feel happy though everything else should be of a downcast nature

But a short distance from this place are to be seen over at this late date the remains of hundreds of our brave heroes who fell in the bloody struggle at Chickamauga. Lying on the top of the ground their bones lie bleaching beneath the scorching sun I think the treatment of our dead by the enemy on that occasion was very inhuman and ought not to be tolerated even by savages

When shall this state of things cease? Ten thousand broken hearted mothers in bitter anguish ask when? Innumerable orphans and desolated homes take up the question, and echoes from myriads of new made graves ask when? But I think the signs of the times tell us that the war is fast nearing an end Joyful times there will be when the sound of PEACE shall ring throughout our land and the good old flag of our country shall proudly wave over every valley and hill top of our regenerated Nation Fathers can then return to their beloved homes and all that is dear to them, by the ties of nature friends and relatives can live a life of quietness and peace

I am not married yet, but there is a very handsome young lady in Illinois, who proposed to have me if I would enlist and go forth to the land of Dixie and fight, bleed and die for my country It being the best offer I ever had, I accepted the proposal Your brother, HENRY BUTLER

Politics is the main topic here at present 'Little Chad' made a two hour speech here on Saturday last. Persons who heard it say that for low slang, and abusive language, it excelled anything heard lately By the way, I must relate a little circumstance that occurred in Roseburg previous to the Union County Convention A prominent Union man of this county was there on business, when 'Chad' took him aside and proceeded to read a portion of a message that he had cut out of a newspaper and which he carried in his pocketbook After he got through he says "now who do you say wrote that?" "Abraham Lincoln," was the reply Just so, says "Chad," and I have been showing it all over town, and the d—d rebels say it was written by General Jackson" This you will please remember, Mr Editor, was before our Convention was held which accounts for the milk in cocoanut.

Yours truly, OAKLAND

A GAME THAT TWO COULD PLAY AT.—ANDREW JACKSON AND JOHN C CALHOUN.—Being at that time a member of Congress, and having occasion to call upon the President upon some business of a constituent, I found myself in his reception room, in the presence of some fifteen or twenty persons casually assembled there, most of whom he had probably never seen before, to whom he was discoursing warmly on the great topics of the day "Mr Calhoun," said he "talks of a reserved constitutional right of nullification, as if any constitution could provide for its own destruction He has got a few county court lawyers to back him but, and this the President said, placing his hand on a large file of letters, "I've got the people of the United States If he means the law of nature, that's another thing But what is the law of nature? It's Andrew Jackson with his musket on his shoulder, and that's a game he'll find, that two can play at" As he uttered the last words, he straightened himself up and made the motion of "carry arms!" This was a definition of the jus naturæ, (law of nature) different from those of Grotius and Puffendorf, but not ill adapted to the exigencies of the times In fact General Jackson had determined to set his iron heel on the incipient rebellion, and he made no secret of his firm purpose, with the first overt act in Carolina, to arrest Mr Calhoun. Happily for him and his friends, the compromise tariff brought forward by Mr Clay, at the next session, (with the best intentions, I am sure, though as a member of Congress and a warm friend of Mr Clay, I voted against it,) formed a bridge over which the nullifiers were able to make a not wholly ignominious retreat Looking back on these transactions under the light of experience, there is good reason for the opinion, that it would have been better for the country, infinitely better for the South if this treasonable conspiracy had been allowed to run its natural course and meet its just fate If the serpent of nullification had been strangled in South Carolina in 1832, by the hero of New Orleans, Secession would not under her lead in 1860-61, have shot forth its hydra heads throughout the South —From a paper by Edward Everett in the N Y Ledger

SPEECH OF PRESIDENT LINCOLN.—At the close of the Patent Office Fair in Washington, Lincoln, in answer to loud and continuous calls, made the following remarks

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: I appear, to say but a word This extraordinary war in which we are engaged falls heavily upon all classes of people, but the most heavily upon the soldier For it has been said, all that a man hath will he give for his life, and while all contribute of their substance, the soldier puts his life at stake, and often yields it up in his country's cause The highest merit, then, is due to the soldier [Cheers] In this extraordinary war extraordinary developments have manifested themselves, such as has not been seen in former wars, and among these manifestations nothing has been more remarkable than these Fairs for the relief of suffering soldiers and their families And the chief agents in these Fairs are the women of America. [Cheers] I am not accustomed to the use of language of eulogy; I have never studied the art of paying compliments to women, but I must say that if all that has been said by orators and poets since the creation of the world in praise of women were applied to the women of America, it would not do them justice for their conduct during the war I will close by saying, God bless the women of America!" [Great applause.]

BISHOP COLENSO is said to have realized enormous profits from his works assailing the Old Testament Scriptures, and the historical truth of the Pentateuch The London Telegraph, which, at the outset, carried the battle axe stoutly for the Zuoloo Bishop, thus speaks of his latest production

The latest portions of his writings far exceed all the rest in astonishing and startling revelations Subjecting the first eleven chapters of Genesis to a searching analysis, it not only aims to prove that at least two, if not three or four, writers were engaged in the compilation, but it treats the historic validity of the document as demolished The celebrated Tom Paine did not labor with more complacency taking, to expedite the Age of Reason No puzzle in the sacred text can excite such practical curiosity in the minds of common men as the question how, if Dr Colenso thus mercilessly despatches dogma after dogma, he can still cling to such remnants of dogma as are somewhat emphatically put forward even in this newest and anti dogmatic essay"

WHAT SUITS NORTHERN DEMOCRATS.—They are just now highly delighted, because several thousand of their Democratic brethren under the leadership of Forrest, recently succeeded in capturing Fort Pillow and, true to their nature, after resistance had ceased, they butchered the living and mutilated the dead Such acts are characteristic of the sacrificial sons of the 'sunny South' who have been taught to despise a laboring man It is of a piece with the Lawrence massacre and the treatment of our brave men, now imprisoned in Richmond and other localities of Dixie In fact, a brave, noble generous act is so rare in their ranks that when such an act does come to the knowledge of even the most radical abolition journalist of the do pise North, it is published and commented upon as an evidence of dawning civilization —Auburn Stars and Stripes

CURRENCY AND TAXES.—The last Statesman has a well written article, explaining the action of the courts upon the "legal tender" question, and showing that the matter is one that calls for legislature, rather than judicial action, and that the legislature has full authority to act, which it ought to exercise at the coming session The article then proceeds

Having this power to prescribe what shall be received in payment of taxes there remains to consider how it is best to exercise it. Shall the power be exercised in a spirit of narrow minded self-ishness, as if the State of Oregon was an isolated community, having neither interest nor sympathy with the National Government in this hour of its great need and sore trial? Or shall we as a constituent and vital part of that Government, so wield the power as to strengthen its hands by enhancing the value of its currency to draw closer the bonds of interest and sympathy between us and it, as far as in us lies, contribute to the establishment of a great nation, with one people and one country?

In favor of the latter alternative, we take our stand and trust and hope that the next Legislative Assembly will provide that all taxes payable to the State or levied and collected by her authority may be paid in the National currency whatever that may be. In the short but eventful career of the United States, so far, probably no one cause has contributed more to attain and preserve that isolated sometimes hostile, and always unnatural, attitude of the several States towards one another and towards the Federal Government, than the want of a uniform currency, authorized, controlled and secured by the latter If the people of each State spoke a language unknown to the rest, it would not more promote that provincial and selfish estrangement of one from the other, than has the fact of each maintaining, in a great measure a separate currency, differing in security quantity and value from the rest As States we of the Pacific Coast have hitherto issued and repudiated the National currency, by refusing or omitting to provide for its use in the payment of public dues Practically, considered as States, so far as the currency is concerned, we have quietly withdrawn from the Union we love so well and set up the golden calf of the Pacific Republic with a motto worthy of the fact, "EVERY ONE FOR HIMSELF—NO NATIONAL CURRENCY TAKEN HERE"!

Thus, we exclude this currency from a large field of circulation and thereby help to depreciate it, and suggest doubt and misgiving as to the stability and solvency of the source from which it emanates, and what do we gain?—Nothing In this depreciated state, it passes on compulsion between man and man among us; for upon the citizen the law of Congress making it a legal tender for debts operates with or without his consent.

But in providing for the payment of taxes in the National currency, we must be just to individuals, as well as true to our allegiance and duty to the General Government. The salaries of our Governor, Judges and other State officers that are paid out of these taxes, must be enhanced in proportion With those who clamor for the payment of State taxes in the National currency in the hope that they will thus be enabled to discharge their obligations at the expense of those who serve them in a public capacity, we have no sympathy. No we have a higher and more disinterested aim in seeking to bring about this change Taxes will be taxes still, and cost as much to the payer as before, but thereby we will have brought the State of Oregon into the line of loyalty to, and harmony with, the National Government, and far away from that unnatural attitude of semi nullification which she now unfortunately occupies

AMERICAN GENEROSITY.—A pamphlet published for distribution at the New York Sanitary Fair contains a record of the volunteer bounty of the people which will confer enduring honor upon the nation The compiler, who has had access to official and other sources of information, states that the contributions from States, counties and towns, for the aid and relief of soldiers and their families, have amounted to over one hundred and eighty-seven millions of dollars that the contributions by associations and individuals have amounted to twenty-four millions, that the contributions at the same time for sufferers in England and elsewhere have reached $380,140 74, and that the contributions to freedmen, sufferers by the New York riot and white refugees have been $850,644 17, making a grand total, exclusive of the outlay of the Government, of more than two hundred millions of dollars! And the flow of benevolence is still unchecked Massachusetts contributes a hundred thousand dollars for the relief of the suffering patriots of East Tennessee, and Fairs for the same purpose are being held in the leading cities of the central States, The Christian Commission and the societies for distributing Bibles and tracts in the various camps are generously sustained

"When this cruel war is over, the regenerated nation will not only command the respect of the world by its military power and resources, but be able to silence, with the record of its lavish sacrifices any attempt to revive the old slander of extreme devotion to the "almighty dollar" To challenge history will be to confound the accuser. Let our good friends east of the Atlantic say, if it please them, that it was foolish to fight for an idea—as they term the Union—or cruel to wage a war for empire, as they call preserving the integrity of our soil they cannot question the magnificent spirit, the voluntary sacrifices and the unbounded benevolence displayed in the prosecution of the struggle. The big heart, as well as the deep purse, must be conceded to the great Republic If the American people have known how to grow wealthy in peace, they have also proved that they know how to use their treasure when plunged into the horrors of war. If they have devoted untiring energy to material development, they have also shown that they will never calculate the cost of maintaining constitutional liberty and preserving this asylum of the oppressed of every land Never before was Justice sent forth with its weightier sword, but never before did Mercy follow the chariot on its vengeful path with more generous provision for rescuing the stricken from deaths of agony The history of the contest will prove that a democratic republic, based upon the National heart, is less amenable to the charge of being mean and mercenary than a monarchy or an aristocracy, devoted to the aggrandizement of a man or a class The big souled, Christian chivalry displayed by these loyal States is unknown to the despotisms or feudalities of modern days —Sac Union.

MARKED ARTICLES.—Some of the marks which are fastened on the blankets, shirts, &c., sent to the Sanitary Commission for the soldiers, show the thought and feeling at home Thus,—on a home spun blanket, worn, but washed as clean as snow, was pinned a bit of paper which said:—"This blanket was carried by Milly Aldrich (who is ninety three years old) down hill and up hill, one and a half miles, to go given to some soldier."

On a bed quilt was pinned a card saying, "My son is in the army Whoever is made warm by this quilt which I have worked on for six days and most all of six nights, let him remember his own mother's love"

On another blanket was this —"This blanket was used by a soldier in 1812—may it keep some soldier warm in this war against traitors

On a pillow was written —"This pillow belonged to my little boy who died resting on it, it is a precious treasure to me, but I give it for the soldiers"

On a pair of woolen socks was written "These stockings were knit by a little girl five years old, and she is going to knit some more for mother says it will help some poor soldiers"

On a box of beautiful hat was this mark; "Made in a sick room, where the sunlight has not entered for nine years, but where God has entered and where two sons have bid their mother good bye as they have gone out to war"

On a bundle containing bandages was written "This is a poor gift but it is all I had, I have given my husband and my boy and only wish I had more to give, but I have'nt"

On some eye shades were marked "Made by one who is blind Oh, how I long to see the dear old flag that you all are fighting under!"

SECESH FEMALE!—A correspondent writing from New Orleans March 15th, says In passing along the streets one is forcibly reminded that some great sorrow weighs heavily up in the hearts and is exhibited in the countenances of the female portion of the inhabitants The features of the most of them wear a sad, cheerless expression, which is far more expressive than language could be of bereavement and disappointed hopes I should judge that three quarters of the white women one passes on the street, are dressed in the habiliments of mourning In addition to this there is an exhibition of straightened circumstances such as is seen in no city north of Mason and Dixon's line In fact, everything one sees bears witness to the great change which has taken place in the circumstances of the first families of this once opulent city Of course my remarks are intended to apply to a class There are exceptions to all rules.

The Republican and Democratic conventions meet to night to consider the expediency of making nominations

The Precific for Victoria and Portland will leave on the 17th

The weather is very windy and unsettled, but little or no rain

THE DEMOCRACY PHOTOGRAPHED.—Demoralized and divided as have been the councils of the Democracy, it is manifest that the approaching Presidential contest will find the fag ends of that party as nearly united as is possible with elements so conflicting and discordant It would hardly be necessary for us to adduce any new arguments in support of our oft reiterated declarations, fully vindicated by stubborn facts, that Democracy had degenerated into a threadbare mantle beneath whose tattered folds treason is ever found lurking, ready, with the stealth of the mid night assassin, to plunge the dagger into the heart of loyalty, whenever and wherever opportunity offers.—Petaluma Argus

LOYALTY IN THE MOUNTAINS.—Away up in Klamath county there is a sentiment of intense loyalty as proved by the following item, clipped from the Yreka Journal

"The citizens of the west side of Scott Valley, in the vicinity of Rough and Ready and Crystal Creek, paid in their regular monthly installment of fifty dollars to the Sanitary Fund last Monday The members of this association pay fifty cents each per month. Delinquents at the close of each month are handed over to a committee of three young ladies"

Mr. R. Hockmay stated that he was induced to try Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs from the recommendation of others He gave it to a child of eleven months old, also used it to his family generally for coughs and colds, and in every instance found immediate relief and that he would not be without it Mr. J. B. Miller states that he used Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs with great benefit to himself he was entirely relieved of a severe cough His neighbor was bleeding at the Lungs, to whom he administered a part of one bottle and it entirely cured him Mr. John Davis was cured of a severe cough, and also gave it to his infant child for the whooping cough, and says it is the medicine of medicines Mr. James N. Harden of Rock Castle wished it proclaimed everywhere that his daughter, aged sixteen years, was severely afflicted with cough and bleeding at the Lungs for seven months She was cured sound and well by using part of one bottle of Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. Mr. Wm. Harden testifies that his wife was greatly afflicted with cough, and suffering much with pain in her breast and sides; also her little daughter, aged two years, had so greatly suffered with phthisic that her life was despaired of Both mother and daughter found immediate relief in using Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam for the Lungs. These are a few of the many testimonials I have received in favor of your great Lung Remedy and if you desire, I can send many more which have come to my knowledge Respectfully yours, I D SMITH, Richmond, Ky.—July 15, 1863 Sold by REDINGTON & CO, 416 and 418 Front street, San Francisco who are also agents for the Pacific Coast for the sale of Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup, and we would direct the attention of those who suffer from scrofula in any of its forms or any other impurity of the blood, to Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup, as it will cleanse the blood and permanently eradicate from the system the cause of the disease, thereby restoring health and vigority to the system Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup is compounded upon scientific principles and with great care We do not pretend it is a cure all nor that in all cases, and under all circumstances. It is absolutely infallible Common sense teaches us that the day of Miracles has passed, but science and facts remain and on the strength of these we call attention to Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup. The noble science of medicine is controlled by the same powers which govern the entire world Were the invalid patients simply to take this medicine for a short time in cases of goitre, syphilitic or scrofulous tumors, ulceration of the bones, etc., and then drop it they would receive from it but very little good; for unless persevered in the money expended for it is comparatively thrown away, nobody is benefited the dissipation remains unpunished, and the reputation of the medicine is injured The action of Scovill's Blood and Liver Syrup is through the secretion of the absorbent vessels which consists in receiving or taking up certain substances known as virus or poisonous principles, and removing them from the diseased parts through the secretions and excretions, until they are carried from the system at the same time good blood is transported through the vessels to the diseased parts of the body REDINGTON & CO Agents, 416 and 418 Front street, San Francisco, and for sale by all Druggists my5 1m

THE NEW CHURCH BELL.—The largest bell ever landed in Portland, came up on the steamship Sierra Nevada, and was yesterday hoisted into the belfry of the new Presbyterian Church, corner of Washington and Third sts. Its weight is 1052 pounds, cost laid down here but little short of $600, and is a surprise present to the Presbyterian Society, from Mrs. H. W. Corbett, of this city. Its components are the same as the best bell metal in the country—silver, copper, etc., in proportions and temper only known to the inventors. It has a fine tone, and will no doubt prove a fitting instrument in a fitting place, for summoning our good people to worship. Only about one hundred and thirty days have elapsed since this bell was shipped on board the clipper Golden Fleece, at New York, and one week from to-morrow it will peal its notes for dedicating of the finest Church in Portland.

THE KOOTENAI.—Messrs. Tracy & King, Assayers in this city, have completed an assay of the Kootenai dust brought from the upper country by Capt. Ankeny. The result shows it to be the finest dust with one exception that has ever been tested by that firm—the value of it is found to be $19.01 81-100 per ounce. As considerable interest is felt in these newly discovered mines we give the result of this Assay, and our opinion that the same field is destined to become as popular as Frazer, without wishing to create any undue excitement. Large parties are already on their route to Kootenai from most of the mines in the upper country.

WEAKNESS AIDED.—A stranger in our city was making his way up Front street yesterday morning, under the most bewitching circumstances. He evidently did not know where he was, nor who he was, or he would not have taken so much trouble to dodge into every nook he came to, as if looking for something lost. Finally he became utterly exhausted, and sank down upon the damp, cheerless ground, with no friend to save, until a kind hearted citizen, well "posted" in the city and wearing a star on his left breast, came along and quietly conducted the stranger to where he would be furnished a bed, for the pay of which he need not be particular until morning.

A SURPRISE PARTY.—Rev. D. Rutledge, pastor of the M. E. Church of this city, and his family were the recipients of a splendid and substantial surprise party, given at the parsonage, by members of his congregation, students of the Academy, and friends in general last evening. The plans were skillfully laid, and successfully carried out, proving a decided surprise. The best of feeling prevailed on both sides, and the minister was as happy as his guests.

SURGICAL.—Dr. J. A. Chapman performed a surgical operation upon the face of Mr. Hiram Terwilliger, which was successful in restoring it to its natural appearance. The operation was very painful, but the patient stood it without the aid of chloroform, or other anæsthetics to nerve him. We congratulate him upon the result.

THE SITUATION.—An error in our dispatches yesterday morning changed the situation of the Federal forces very materially from what was really the case. Gibbon's and Barlow's divisions were withdrawn from the south bank of the river Po, south of the Rapidan, on the 3rd of Tuesday, instead of from the south bank of the Rapidan.

BOUQUETS.—Upon the arrival of the steamer Senator from Oregon City, last evening, quite a display was made of fine bouquets, the passengers having procured them at Milwaukie, on the way down. Mr. Miller's place must appear perfectly beautiful, to turn out such lovely flowers.

THE OCEAN STEAMERS.—Our dispatches indicate this morning that the steamships from San Francisco are to leave on the regular days hereafter, and run the same as before the Spring rush. The next steamer will be the Pacific, which leaves on the 17th, for this place via Victoria.

JENNY JONES.—The clipper schooner Jenny Jones arrived at Victoria on the 1st inst., and was advertised to sail again for this city on Thursday, the 5th. Should all things prove favorable, she is now due.

TILLAMOOK PACKET.—The schooner Ellen will leave for Tillamook this afternoon, with an assortment of freight. She will be used as a packet for this line, instead of making trips to Cape Disappointment, as usual of late.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH SERVICE.—The repairs to the Congregational Church, corner of Jefferson and Second streets, have been completed, and service will be held at the usual hours to-morrow.

FIRST OF THE SEASON.—Ripe wild strawberries were exposed for sale on Front street yesterday. They were the first of the season and were not very good, being little like the genuine article in taste.

THE USE OF STREETS.—The Council have granted Jos. Jeffers the use of the corner of Washington and Front, and Alder and Front streets for building purposes.

SANITARY BALL.—The ball given by the Ladies' Sanitary Aid Society of Vancouver on Thursday evening last, was a decided success.

FIRE AT WALLA WALLA.—Five buildings were destroyed by fire in Walla Walla on Monday night last, including the office of the County Clerk. The damage is estimated at about $5,000.

The Sanitary Commission practices upon the principle that none but the brave deserve the fair.

WEIL BROS. & Co.—By reference to their advertisement, it will be perceived that this enterprising firm are reaping the fruits of their commendable activity and judicious counsel. Among the first to open trade with the principal Atlantic and European establishments direct, they are now in receipt of a splendid assortment of goods in their line, comprising all the latest styles and most elegant patterns. A visit to their store will amply repay our citizens, who will be waited upon as rapidly as the immense number of customers will admit of.

The amount expended in England on railways, to the present time, has been upwards of three hundred and eighty-five millions sterling, nearly half their national debt.

General Scott has nearly completed his autobiography, tracing his personal history downward, from the earliest period to the latest public act of his eminently useful life.

We have never yet known a man of real business capacity that was not a self-made one. And such men are Heinston, Hastings & Co., the great clothing men of California and New York. They commenced from small beginning in Marysville in '54 and now, ten years later, they have the most extensive wholesale store in San Francisco, entirely separate and distinct from their retail establishments.

NOT TOO GOOD.—If you buy the best you buy the cheapest. Shelby has the best, most general and well selected stock of boots and shoes to be seen in this market. We do not propose to advise, but an examination of his stock before buying elsewhere is our reasonable conclusion.

Rebekah Meeting.—There will be a meeting held in the Degree of Rebekah, on Thursday evening, May 19, at the Hall of Samaritan Lodge No 2 I. O. O. F. Members of the order in good standing are invited to attend.

By order of N. G.
Portland, May 12, 1864.

Oppression after Eating.—Many persons, after an ordinary meal, feel a sense of weight and discomfort in the region of the stomach, the sure sign of an imperfect digestion, and probably the forerunner of a settled dyspepsia. Nothing will relieve this oppression like the PERUVIAN SYRUP, acting in a wonderful manner in stimulating the liver to the proper performance of its duty.

SORE THROAT, COUGH, COLD, and similar troubles, if suffered to progress, result in serious, Pulmonary, Bronchial and Asthmatic Affections, oftentimes incurable.

BROWN'S BRONCHIAL TROCHES
are compounded so as to reach directly the seat of the disease and give almost instant relief.

REDINGTON & CO., San Francisco,
ap26dawtf Agents for the Pacific Coast.

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.—The operation of this palatable remedy upon the stomach, liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative. It regulates, recruits and purifies them. Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties, and it is recommended to mothers, enfeebled by the cares and duties of maternity, as the safest and best tonic they can probably use. In all the crisis of female life it will be found eminently useful, and elderly persons will derive much more benefit from it than from ordinary stimulants.—Sold by all Druggists and Dealers everywhere. ap26d1m

Trouble in Camp

BY THE ADJUTANT.

When General Burnside quietly laid down his pontoons and crossed the Rappahannock on a certain frosty morning to scale the ugly heights of Fredericksburg, it may be certain that no wiseacre in the Grand Army of the Potomac pooh poohed that demonstration as only another of those harmless feints or careful recognizances that kept quiet country people at home in a constant state of alarm, expectation, and ergo, of disappointment

The shrill diapason of two hundred guns or thereabouts, playing steadily upon the beleaguered town, and answered back defiantly from the hill tops beyond, was not exactly the kind of music to inspire confidence in the soul of any poor devil who only came out from behind his counter to play soldier for a brief season, by way of recreation So the Grand Army moving down to the river's brink, saw what was before it, and felt what was to come

When a cool hundred thousand people, dressed in brilliant blue, with bayonets glistening in the sunshine, march boldly across a disputed boundary to meet a similar body of pressed in any color you please—especially gray—of course, the chances for a grand tableau are a dead set, as both colors can no more predominate within a given radius than two bodies of any other species of matter can occupy the same point of space at the same period of time. And so Fredericksburg won fame and immortality—and with it, many thousand gallant hearts that crossed the dark river and looked cheerfully up at the dull December sky on that sad morning, only to lie frozen and ghastly in the starlight

This narrative has little to do, however, with the stirring events of that field Whether anybody was to blame for that disaster—and if anybody, who? or whether it was simply one of these mischances of war which have occurred before and since Noah's time, and will again, in spite of tactics, army regulations red tape, strategy, or incompetent generals, we hold to be debateable questions, and do not intend aggravating any rash-tempered individual by publicly expressing our private opinion

But in truthfully relating this story, we found it absolutely necessary to get rid of that Grand Army at the outset, and the unprejudiced reador will freely admit that no readier method could be adopted than a masterly movement over to Fredericksburg, which having successfully accomplished, we will proceed to elaborate

Every soldier is not necessarily required to go into a battle When an army in the field vacates a held temporarily, it is usual for each General commanding a brigade to detail an officer to remain in charge The duties of this officer, although light, are nevertheless important

Guards are to be posted, stragglers sent forward, prisoners taken care of, and many trifling matters to be disposed of, which occur only on a dislocated camp When our brigade moved to the front, the fortune of war and the General's order threw this unenviable position into the hands of Major Wimbleton of the —th Pennsylvania, who was then recovering from a severe attack of chronic rheumatism, and was still incapable of active duty Captains Kopper, brigade quartermaster, and Wingham, commissary, (of course these names are in strict confidence) were also left behind to procure and forward supplies as they might be required The lower ranks of the home guard at headquarters were filled by the commissary and quartermaster's clerks, servants, and a few of us inglorious convalescents who were not born to die just then.

Time, however, did not hang very heavily upon our hands. Being thoroughly acquainted with the various phases of military life, we bore our lot with the equanimity of old soldiers, and although not over pleased with our position in the rear, or the construction our kind friends at home might be pleased to put upon it, we consoled ourselves with the reflection that we would probably "live to fight another day"

We passed the day in listening to the distant roar of the "peacemakers" and speculating on the results of the contest At night we lounged about the Major's tent The Major was one of those jolly, agreeable fellows with whom it would be possible to spend a pleasant evening in the depths of the Mammoth Cave, or even in the gloomy cells of Libby prison He was not one of those contemptible prigs who ape the manners of the "damnition graduates," and cut their old acquaintances in the ranks dead after using their shoulders to climb up Kind and courteous to all, yet firm in the performance of his duty, no one in the ranks presumed upon his good nature, and none ventured to disobey him.

But like the majority of good fellows in this curious world, the Major was troubled with his amiable little eccentricities Exception may be taken to the last term, as applied to the Major's characteristics, but we will venture our reputation upon its propriety. We have heard honesty and pocket picking called eccentricity, and see no reason in the world why whisky should not be entitled to the same charitable appellation. At any rate, whisky was the eccentricity and he was generally permitted to humor his inclinations in that direction "to the top of his bent" when off duty, although he had such a happy faculty of carrying "an even keg on" without sacrificing appearances, that the "subs" used to gamble on him, and a full hour was frequently required to decide the wager The symptoms were confined to a slight nervous twitching about the corners of the mouth, a certain peculiar smile, and an inclination to quote Shakspeare Suspicion was also attached to a confidential wink, an involuntary shrug, or a tendency to gesticulation But when the Major volunteered to favor the expectant crowd with a song, of course the sponge was thrown up at once, and the stakes changed hands or the wine was put into new bottles Before going any further we are obliged to state for our own justification that the moral state of our hero has been to us a source of the deepest grief, and has caused us to spend many weary days and sleepless nights with the sad prospect of an untimely grave It would afford us unfeigned pleasure to present him to our conservative reader from a higher stand point, but it is a notable and lamentable fact that moral heroes are such rare birds now a days that it is becoming the subject of serious inquiry whether a man can be strictly moral and still be a hero

But revenons, as we say in France

On the second evening after the departure of the brigade, we all assembled at the Major's tent with the laudable intention of "making a night of it" Canvas walls are naturally chilly in December, and betray an equal facility for letting in the cold and letting out the heat, but the Major's diminutive stove, which you could draw out like a telescope or shut up in a handbox, nearly ruptured itself in trying to do its duty by its patented The furniture of this home for the houseless was neat but not by any means gaudy, consisting of a rickety writing table, a few camp stools, a dilapidated trunk and an ingenious contrivance intended for a bed, partly hammock and partly bunk made by driving four stakes in the ground floor of the tent and covering them with a sheet of canvas nailed fast and taut, but so delicately constructed that the greatest care was necessary in getting in and out of it.

As the party arrived, each one took his allotted seat, the seniors being assigned the choice positions about the stove The Major himself occupied one of those clumsy arm chairs that throw your head back and your legs up, giving you a very gentle and comfortable appearance, and at the same time making you a victim of false pretences

A dingy lamp swinging from the ridgepole above added new lustre to the gorgeous pasantes and brilliant buttons of the natty "subs"

Due decorum was maintained until at length the Major in all the glory of a scarlet smoking cap with huge tassels (a present from his sister[!]) and a span new undress uniform arose in his place and with his usual calm dignity remarked

"Gentlemen, you are all aware of the object of this assemblage, have you come equipped as I ordered?"

Kopper, the Quartermaster—we called him Kop for short—assumed a perpendicular thrust his hand under his cap, drew forth a mysterious package of an oblong shape, and placed it on the table, remarking "there are my credentials"

This movement was the signal for the other members of the party to produce mysterious packages all of the same suspicious shape which having been duly arranged on the table in double file, labels to the front, matters began to assume a very satisfactory appearance At this juncture, anxious inquiries were made for a corkscrew, which caused quite a flutter among the bluebirds but the house was brought to order by the Major exclaiming

"Hang your corkscrew, you talk like a pack of bar keepers Kop, pass me my sabre I'll show you a little trick I learned in Algiers (This last remark was purely figurative, but was a pet expression of the Major's) If at any future time you should happen to be cast away on a desolate island in the Pacific, without a corkscrew, and a bottle of prime Bourbon should float ashore—which is quite likely you know—a trifle of experience in this business may possibly save your lives"

Saying which the Major seized a bottle and placing the bottom of it in the hollow of his left hand, he grasped the sabre with his right laid it gently on the neck of the bottle, and with a dexterous upper cut sent the head with a cork in it flying up to the ridge pole without spilling a drop of the precious fluid

"Presto!" said he, "do you see that! Keep your seats, gentlemen, no extra charge"

(To be concluded)

MARKET REPORT AND REVIEW

PORTLAND, Friday May 13th—2 P. M

The Market has been active for the past week so far as regards trade with the upper country Shipments of flour bacon, and groceries, have been constant and liberal

The receipts of country produce have not been fairly equal to the demand except in the articles of potatoes and eggs.

Bacon is in demand at 16 cents on the average by the quantity Butter is active at 25@30 cents Potatoes, 30 to 35 cents per bush Eggs 18 cents per dozen

In grain there is little doing at present Feed Grains have taken a slight advance and we quote Oats at 65 cts

Accounts received from California up to date of the 1st inst, speak doubtfully of the prospects of the crops in various parts of that State The Stockton Independent says

"It is now evident that the grain crops throughout the State will fall short of what was expected after the late rains and unless we have more rain speedily, nothing will be realized from thousands of dollars worth of seed grain that has been put into the ground

The Marysville Appeal says the crops of that vicinity as a general thing are a total failure, and the farmers are quite discouraged

PERUVIAN SYRUP,

OR PROTECTED

Solution of Protoxide of Iron,

Has been used with Great Success in Curing

DYSPEPSIA,

Affections of the Liver, Dropsy Neuralgia, Bronchitis and Consumptive Tendencies, Disordered State of the Blood, Female Complaints, Chronic Diarrhœa, Boils, Scurvy the present ing effects of Lead or Mercury,

GENERAL DEBILITY,

and all Diseases which require a

Tonic and Alterative Medicine.

THE PROOFS OF ITS EFFICACY are so numerous so well authenticated and of such peculiar character, that sufferers cannot reasonably hesitate to receive the proffered aid

The class of diseases for which the Syrup provides a cure is precisely that which has so often baffled the highest order of medical skill The facts are tangible the witnesses accessible and the safety and efficacy of the Syrup incontrovertible

From well-known Citizens of Boston.

The undersigned having experienced the beneficial effects of the Peruvian Syrup, do not hesitate to recommend it to the attention of the public

Certificate of Dr. Hayes.

It is well known that the medicinal effect of Protoxide of Iron is lost by even a very brief exposure to air and that to maintain a solution of Protoxide of Iron, without further oxidation has been deemed impossible

In the Peruvian Syrup this desirable point is attained by combination in a way before unknown and this solution may replace all the proto carbonates citrates and tartrates of the Materia Medica A A HAYES M D

IODINE WATER.

IODINE WATER IS THE MOST IMPORTANT DISCOVERY of modern chemistry and it is impossible to over-estimate its influence as a remedial agent Iodine has been considered the most useful article in Materia Medica and many of the most scientific and practical chemists and physicians have investigated its effects upon the human system. It is to act upon the

HEART,
LIVER, KIDNEYS,
DIGESTIVE ORGANS AND GLANDULAR SYSTEM,

and to have great control over

SCROFULOUS AFFECTIONS.

Notwithstanding the zeal and ability which have been devoted to its investigation it remained almost useless, until Dr Henry Anders a physician and chemist of New York, after years of patient labor and experiment discovered a chemical process which enabled him to dissolve

PURE IODINE IN PURE WATER.

without a solvent This considered impossible by the scientific world is attested by certificates of analysis from Dr J R Chilton of this city and Prof Booth U S Mint, Philadelphia The importance of this discovery was so highly appreciated by the Faculty that it was published in the Medical Journals and its use recommended to practitioners (see "American Medical Monthly," July 6, 1858, page 75)

This valuable medicine is now available to the public for the cure of Scrofula in all its manifold forms. Consumption, Cancer Heart, Liver and Kidney Diseases, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, Nervous Affections, Dyspepsia, Bronchitis, etc

AS A TONIC

Its operation is evinced by strengthening the digestive organs and increased nutrition of the body it the result of the employment of Iodine The patient recovers flesh, strength and color hitherto pale, relaxed and feeble, he becomes full strong and florid

STOMACH BITTERS.

THE OPERATION OF THIS PALATABLE REMEDY upon the stomach liver and excretory organs is singularly soothing and conservative It regulates recruits and purifies them Dyspepsia in all its forms yields to its control and invigorating properties

Invigorate the System

Vigorous digestion and pure bile produce nutritious blood and nutritious blood a healthy frame Does the victim of a dyspeptic stomach and a disordered liver desire to know how the digestion may be improved, the bile and other fluids of the body purified?

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters

Will accomplish this desirable revolution in the system regulating the secretions and excretions, giving tone to the animal juices which dissolve the food, strengthen every relaxed nerve muscle and fibre and brings the whole machinery of vitality into vigorous and healthful play

Strengthen the System.

The best means of imparting vigor to the broken-down frame and shattered constitution which has yet been invented or discovered, is proffered to the feeble of both sexes and all ages in

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters.

Debility from whatever cause arising, may be cured, strength in whatever manner it may have been wasted, may be restored by the use of this powerful and healthy invigorant For indigestion and all its painful effects, bodily and mental, they are a positive specific

A ward to the Aged.

In the decline of life the loss of vital forces consequent upon physical decay can only be safely supplied by some vivifying preparation which recruits the strength and spirits without entailing the exhaustion which is always the final effect of ordinary stimulants We tender to the aged

Dr. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters,

As an invigorant and restorative immediate in its beneficial action and permanent in its effects It tones the stomach improves the appetite, and acts like a charm upon the spirits

For Females.

Thousands of ladies resort to it as a remedy for hysteria, fluttering of the heart nervous headache, vertigo general debility and all peculiar disturbances and derangements to which as a sex they are subject. It decides and obliterates the depressed mental powers as well as strengthens the body and its use is never followed by any reaction
